

7 REASONS

FOR TURNING DOWN A JOB PROMOTION

ThriveYard.com

1

Not aligned to your career path

The promotion does not align with your projected or desired career path. It is not the right fit

2

Unable to handle the new responsibilities

Your skills fall short. You do not feel confident about succeeding in the new role

3

Personal commitments

Timing. Personal plans such as going back to school, family commitments or intending to change jobs soon

4

Steep learning curve

Requires too much time or effort to get up to speed and perform well in the new position

5

A history of people failing in the position

Revolving door history. Many people have come and left that position within a short period of time

6

You like your current job

You simply like your job and are not willing or interested in taking on a promotion

7

It might require too much of your time

Long hours in the office even weekends, always connected on your phone and email, too many meetings or too much travel
